

Arts IN PAGE

EGGY PATTERN

DISTINCTIVE—WEARABLE

A dress that shows good taste for general daytime wear that will prove comfortable at same time is the model sketched in printed pique in capucine tones. It has kimono sleeves which a great many women prefer for the frocks they wear to market and about town. The deep revers at front do much toward breaking the width through bodice. The hips are slim with shaped yoke. Style No. 541 is designed in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Another delightful idea is to make it of checked gingham in brown and white with rever collar of white pique piped in brown. Sky-blue silk pique, ombre stripes in tub silk, violet flat silk crepe, yellow and white polka-dotted crepe de chine and sprigged dimity are fashionable.

We suggest that when you send for this pattern, you enclose 10 cents additional for a copy of our Fashion magazine. It's just filled with delightful styles, including smart ensembles and cute designs for the kiddies.

The Peggy Pattern is a 10-cent pattern offered by The Detroit Free Press in addition to the Paris pattern. When ordering it be careful not to confuse it with the Paris pattern. Give name, size and number of pattern, with your full name and address and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin. (Do not send checks or money-orders). Address Peggy Patterns, Detroit Free Press, Detroit.

Nancy Page

A Slowly Acquired Uniform Tan Is Not Painful

BY FLORENCE LA GANKE.

FANNY LAWRENCE was Lois's friend who had traveled 'round the world three times in two years. After Lois had visited her in New York she invited her to come to her home for a stay. Fanny accepted with such alacrity that Lois felt sorry for her. It was all right to have money and to travel, but suppose you never had a home of your own nor a nice husband like Roger—well, the more Lois thought about it, the more satisfied she was with her own lot.

Fanny loved the seashore, but her vagrant life had kept her from indulging that fondness for some time. She brought bathing suits with her and lay in the sun getting herself well tanned. Later she planned to play tennis in the modern stockingless mode and she knew she would be better to look upon if she were tanned and uniformly brown.