

thes
are derers
d Os-
s, says
weekly
ection les to rill be er she north
a kind
Her
ice of

at the
com-
gance

ncludust be
space,
that
ollars
," she rell as
re bet-
vening
y, one e very takes is not

nitted
silk
they er be st be s and
jersey
of the either.
crepe
st reickly.
is an-kes a ts, if
)
uit of smart seven-
will occa-
dust
sur-
must even
s. A
rters s also efully
faile

s the
not min-
e. A
have
and which erent
Eliza-ill be sions
what

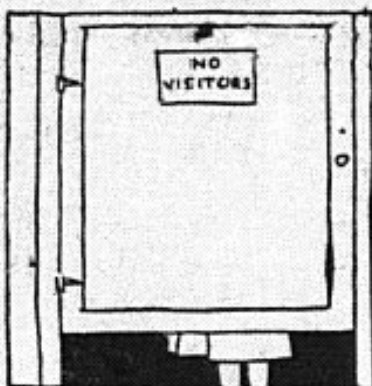

id try
ades,
ytime
ening
have slip-ening
eve-

pack
is or ied so
cos-ht of s are st be ening
of the ing."
Excel-
ocur-
st soil

Nancy Page

The Page Family Announces
Coming of Re-peter

BY FLORENCE LA GANKE

Most calendars show the Fourth of July in red lettering. Peter was not the least bit interested in that date but he knew that the fifth would always stand out in his life because it was on that day that he and Nancy found themselves the parents of a young son. Nancy was doing well, thanks to the care she had taken of herself before the baby was born. The boy was normal. Nancy was resting easily and all was well in the Page family.

It had been quite a question as to what they would name the baby. Nancy had insisted that if the baby were a boy she wanted him named after Peter. She could just see Peter II in print, in school books and what not. But Peter hesitated. "Why, he will be a repeater if we name him that and I don't know whether I am good enough to be repeated." "Now you are fishing for a compliment. Of course you are." Whatever the baby might be called eventually, he was now known as Re-Peter.

The hospital was wise enough to know that Nancy should see no visitors. For the first week Peter and her mother were the only ones allowed. Then close relatives were admitted. But in the whole two weeks even Joan could not come down. This nearly broke her heart. She asked Grandmother Lee whether she did not have enough pennies to buy Aunt Nancy some flowers. You would be surprised to find how many flowers the florist sent for her handful of pennies.

(Copyright, 1928.)

Nancy Page spent much time getting a layette in readiness. Write to her, care of The Detroit Free Press, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, asking for her "Layette" leaflet.

THE BELTED NIGHTROBE.

Many of the newer nightrobes half molas

milk,
three-
teasp
three-
two.
one a
flour,
cup t
Cre
A
sour
thoro
Roll,
minut

A

You
entire coat.
to go
shops
or fo
buy o ing a
are ab
you w
the c heavy solid all s toddie
But
every
be fou
leal s
This
cloth proof.

One
pastel chintz
costs
the r
wide,
a yar
After
have
Beret

Mal
using
Line
colore
may cinati
plicate
of the
to hav
color
note
design
ing
colore

Try
little kitchen
than small
money