

THE HOME. Flanked Windows CRUMB.

All who are interested in beautifying and decorating their interior decoration, no more than three problems will be written to this department as often as possible. State your questions clearly, in a self-addressed, stamped envelope, and to The News. Letters with their answers are taken, but names and addresses will

The arrangement of the furniture in this room is balanced, pleasing and inviting, three qualities which promise a successful room.
For those who prefer a pale green background this scheme is suggested —walls and woodwork, a light tint of green; floor covering and draperies, deep wine red; glass curtains, like those suggested for the first scheme, furniture coverings, soft yellow ground chintz.

It is interesting to note that part of the charm of this room lies in its convenience for every chair has near at hand a small table or lamp to provide for books, smoking accessories and proper light for reading or sewing.
Should you wish to have an eighteenth century English room you could scarcely find a more pleasing example of informality than the one shown in this illustration.

Quilt Club Corner.

THIS letter is from one of your admirers and listeners who heretofore has kept silent. I have never made a quilt but judging from the enthusiasm of your members it is indeed an interesting as well as profitable pastime. I have a lot of this work and I'm determined to make a quilt for a Christmas gift for my oldest daughter, who is 20.

I have four and the youngest is six years old.

Are there any members of the club near me who would like to get together and quilt? My friends would like to join such a club with me. I live near Woodward and Seven Mile road. I should like to meet Mrs. MacLeod. There were different members' addresses that I meant to copy but forgot to do so.

MRS. MARY DONALD,
Detroit, Mich.

Oh, it doesn't take long to get one interested in quilt-making and I know that you will soon wonder

I am sure your daughter will appreciate having a quilt as a Christmas gift. And then you will have to start right in and make one for each of the other children.

I am sorry your address was not on your letter, for if it had been some of the members would surely write to you. A neighborhood club is lots of fun. Why don't you write to some whose addresses indicate they live near you. I am sure that Mrs. MacLeod would be glad to meet you.

Do not let this be your only letter to the Corner. All of the members will want to know what pattern you select and how you like quilt-making once you get started.

I HAVE been listening to the broadcast and reading the Corner. I have decided to make the Trip. I have made two Flower Garden others. I enjoy the broadcast the letters very much.

Well, Mrs. R., you will
