

QUILT CLUB CORNER.

Another Log Cabin Quilt Is Interesting To Study

By EDITH B. CRUMB.

This department seeks to give assistance to all who are interested in practicing their homes and will be glad to answer questions pertaining to greater knowledge in order to serve all who seek advice promptly so more than these questions will be discussed in any one issue. Readers are invited to write to this department to write as they wish, not to limit each letter to three questions. State your questions clearly and write only on one side of the paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope, and address blanks to the Home Department, Detroit News. Letters with their names will be published for the benefit of all homemakers, but names and addresses will not be made public.

At first glimpse you may think that the same illustration is being shown every night in the Quilt Club Corner, but if you will compare them you will find that there is a distinction between the quilts, even though they are all made of Log Cabin quilt blocks.

The manner in which the blocks are assembled is what alters the general effect, and in today's picture you see a quilt with a light center, dark and light borders outlining it, a very pleasing arrangement.

This quilt won a ribbon award at The Detroit News Quilt Exhibit and was entered by Mrs. Willis Lee Smith, 1006 Carmel avenue, Detroit. It is of wool and cotton fabrics and was made 83 years ago by Mrs. Mary Brown, of Lebanon, O.

If you will keep the illustrations of the various Log Cabin quilts shown in this column you will find it very interesting to see how many variations there may be from just one kind of block.

The letters are coming into the Corner in large numbers and I want to thank all of the quilt-makers and interested members for taking such an interest and helping it to continue.

I don't think that many have waited long before starting more quilts; and please don't worry about the type of pattern to be put out-very soon. So many have asked not to have appliques, while others would prefer appliques to piecedwork design. So you may make either or both. I wouldn't be surprised to find many of you making several.

Those who sent quilts from out-of-town are to have them returned by Parcel Post this week, so please do not worry because you have not received them. Because so many wished to call for them, it has been decided to leave the mailing until the last.

Let's Welcome Mrs. A.

Your Quilt Corner is very interesting. I am very sorry that I came to live in Michigan a day after the Contest ended. I am very anxious to know about some of your patterns, especially the Trip Around the World.

MRS. S. O. ARSDALE,
Hotel Heldenbrand,
Pontiac, Mich.

The Quilt Club Corner members will be glad that you are interested in their Corner and I wouldn't be surprised if you had letters from some of them. Inasmuch as you have just come to Michigan to live, I trust that they will make you feel welcome by writing to you and, perhaps some will offer to exchange patches with you so that you may start a quilt right away. Several patterns have been sent to you and I hope that you will find them attractive.

Please let the Corner know if you receive any letters, for it is always interesting to know how the correspondence progresses.

I WONDER if the woman who made the "Flower Garden" quilt in light green and tan would write to me. Her quilt was in the same row as Mrs. Fischer's quilt.

I was not able to exchange patches. When I arrived there did not seem to be anyone who wanted to exchange, so I had to take mine home. I hope someone will exchange with me by mail.

MRS. GEORGE SANCHO,
14645 Fulton,
Inkster, Mich.

I hope that this little note will bring you word from the woman who made the quilt you described.

You just happened in with your patches at the wrong time, Mrs. Sancho and I am so sorry about it. The quilt-patch exchanging seemed to go by "fits and starts." Sometimes there were 15 or 20 quilt-makers chatting and exchanging and then the Corner would be just as quiet as could be and you just came along at a quiet time. I started out with five pounds of patches and they only lasted an hour, so I will know what to do in preparation for the show next year.

You should have no trouble exchanging patches by mail for this is still going on and your name and address should surely bring you some. Please let us know if you receive any.

MY mother, sister and I visited the Quilt Show and we certainly enjoyed looking at all of the beautiful quilts. I have never made a quilt, but after seeing how pretty they are, I think I would like to try it. Will you please tell me how and where I may obtain patterns?

MRS. FRANK HUGHES,
15363 Woodingham,
Detroit, Mich.

There are a great many Mr. Hughes, who (like you) have decided to make a quilt since seeing so many at the show. I suppose it is difficult to decide upon a pattern, but this much I will tell you—you will not stop at one quilt, for once you start you just can't stop and you just go on and on making quilts. If you will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Quilt Club Corner, The Detroit News, and state what patterns you wish they will be sent right out to you. There is no charge for these other than the required postage. If you prefer to call for them, they will get you at The Detroit News Public Service Bureau in either the Malleable Building or the General Motors Building.

Brisket of Beef Extends Budget

Tonight's Radio Dinner

Beef Brisket With Beans
Boiled Potatoes
Fruit Salad
Banana Stuffed Apples

WITH beef brisket priced at approximately 9 cents per pound, it makes a delicious dinner had with beans. Potatoes should be omitted, but if the family prefers, serve them boiled. Grapefruit and orange segments on lettuce furnish the fresh entre, as a change from green vegetable salads.

Beef Brisket With Beans

One pound navy beans, 1 to 1 1/2 pounds brisket, of beef, 1/2 teaspoon mustard, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/4 cup maple or corn syrup; salt and pepper.

Soak beans in water overnight or all day. Drain. Put in covered baking-dish with sugar, mustard, syrup and seasonings. Place the meat on top of this. Cover with water. Cook in the oven until the meat is tender for about 3 hours, adding water when necessary. Pass chili sauce with the dinner.

Banana Stuffed Apples

Four apples, 1 banana, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water.

Make a syrup by boiling the sugar and water together for three minutes. Core apples and pare top only. Fill cavities with thinly sliced bananas and arrange in baking pan. Pour the syrup over them and bake about half an hour until tender. In a moderate oven (325 degrees F.) When done, dot each apple with butter and bake with remaining syrup. Serve with butter crackers. Four portions.
