standing outfits in St. Petersburg on Easter morning was a white crepe dress with a pleated skirt and a full-length cape of black, with an undergarment in redingote style. The lady's hat was black felt, a huge beret that dipped to the front. Black patent gloves finished off the outfit.

“THE sculptured hairdresses seem to be on the wane. The flares and rolls are much too hard to wear and twice as hard to keep up. Everything is soft and fluffy, with a general absence of hair ornaments.

“As for corsages, your escort can do no better than a cluster of lilies of the valley.

“The fashionable bride will outline the square neckline of her white marquissette bridal robe with a spray of natural orange blossoms and decorate her Scarlett O'Hara cap with the same flowers, but she will leave the arm bouquets and sheaves for her attendants to bear. Her trembling hands will manage a white covered prayer book, which in turn will leave the shower ribbons and decorations on the shelves in florist's workroom.

“It's a paradoxical season if we are to make Fifth Avenue our last court of appeal. You can be daring without losing any of your conservative principles.

“Cheerio—

“JUDY.”

THIS is just to remind you that Thursday is April 1. No, we don't mean that you've got to be careful not to pick up phoney purses or bite into soapy candy. This year April 1 means just one thing to quilters—the first day for receiving quilts for The Detroit News Quilt Show. The show is April 16, 17 and 18, as you all know.

Who is going to be the first one at the door early on Thursday morning with her package of quilts tucked under her arm? The photographer is shining up his camera to take a picture of this quilt-maker. Maybe there will be a whole group as there was last year.

Quilts are to be taken to 827 West Lafayette boulevard, in the building just half a block west of the main building of The Detroit News.

THERE you will receive an identification stub for your quilt. Be sure to take care of this so that when you call for your quilt after the show it may be easily found.

Those of you who live out of town may mail your quilts to us and they will be taken care of. After that your only duty is to rest up to attend the show.

Many of you, I know, are putting the finishing touches on your quilts or tops, but you must not fail to have them reach us by April 10.

We have already received some quilts from Gloversville, N. Y., and many others are coming from out of town. One has already been received from Alaska.

QUILTS from any patterns may be entered and are eligible for cash prizes and you are allowed to offer any of your quilts or tops for sale. You must set the price on them, of course, but we will see to it there is a neatly printed sign on it with your name and the amount you will sell it for.

So many have written to find out where they might sell their quilts it was decided this would be the very best method of offering them for sale. This must make many of you very happy.

Be sure to come to the Quilt Club meeting Friday. Just think what a lot of chatting will be going on then.

Are you or you or you going to be the first one down here to make your entry on Thursday?

Boys' Bad Conduct Blamed on Parents

Dr. Martha Wilson MacDonald, of Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago, says she has found through a study that criminal tendencies in boys often are traced to the influence of aggressive masculine mothers and submissive fathers. Such boys, says Dr. MacDonald, usually are “sissies,” playing girls' games, sewing and cooking. Their criminal tendencies assert themselves in lying, stealing and truancy. “The mothers are women who more or less despise males,” says this investigator.
