

Cards and Letters Bring News of Absent Quilters

By EDITH B. CRUMB

Quilt Club Corner Editor, The Detroit News

DO you realize that every Friday at the Quilt Club Corner meetings there are quilts on exhibit? Every member who has just finished one or has one which she thinks would interest us (and there isn't a quilt which does not) brings it down and we have an opportunity to examine it.

When Mrs. Selma Costa, 24845 Tuscany avenue, brought her friend, Mrs. Mayzie Hottum, 26842 Norfolk avenue, Inkster, to the Corner meeting, she helped make the exhibit a gay one for Mrs. Hottum brought this lovely appliqued poppy quilt which is shown in the illustration.

The background of the quilt is white and the design is in tangerine and green, the quilting being in two styles, one in parallel lines and the other in a diamond lattice pattern. The quilting does not include the applique which gives the flowers a puffed and raised effect.

BE sure to bring a quilt or top to the meeting for us to see for we will enjoy having it there to make the afternoon an interesting one.

A card has been received from our friend, Mrs. C. Monroe, who is staying in De Land, Fla. She says that she thinks of us often and wishes to be remembered to the Quilt Club members.

AND for dessert, pond lilies. It looks like a typographical error—as if a line from the garden editor's page had slipped into the wrong column—and it sounds a bit wet, but it comes to you with the recommendation of Jean McBride, director of The Detroit News Test Kitchen, who fries her pond lily pastries in deep fat and fills them avenue, Detroit, has also written to tell us that she must obey doctor's orders and stay home and be quiet, and she certainly gets lonesome, but being able to sew on quilts helps a lot. She wants to know if any of you quilters can spare some nursery prints, for she needs some and it is not possible for her to do any shop-

MRS. AMELIA HUBER, 117 Oaklawn avenue, Battle Creek, has written that she has just recently returned to that city for an extended visit and has subscribed to The Detroit News so that she may again have the pleasure of reading about the Quilt Club and its many interesting incidents.

She was sorry not to be able to help Mrs. Mae Stanley with the finishing of her State quilt.

She is working on a Beggar's Patch and has it about half finished. She would like to exchange

Visitor Brings Quilt to Club

letters and blocks with and one who would care to write to her.

MISS MABEL L. TANNER, 227 Chandler street, Romeo, Mich., would like to put in an SOS call for the pattern called "Joseph's Coat of Many Colors." Maybe some member has this and would be kind enough to send it to Miss Tanner. She will be glad to send patches in return for it.

She finished a Field of Diamonds quilt for Christmas and gave it to a friend. That certainly was a generous gift, but I am sure that Miss Tanner enjoyed making every stitch of it.
