Combination of Colors Stressed in New Pattern

By EDITH B. CRUMB

DOESN'T just the name of this new quilt pattern, "Spring Visions," make you want to collect all of your bright bits of material and start right away on this fact-finding block? You have had patterns which consisted for the most part of triangles and squares, but here is something just a little different. It is a conventional flower but it also might remind you of a prism and the colors which it throws out touches and some are just in the process of cutting and planning the color schemes.

That there is an ever-increasing interest in quilts there can be no doubt. This year's Detroit News Quilt Show promises to be the most colorful one yet, because every one is trying so hard to make beautiful quilts.

Every week at the Friday meeting more members join.

MRS. WILLIAM K. POLAND brought us the sad news that Mrs. Alice Marx (our blind quilt-maker), 435 Buchanan st., Huntington, Ind., has had a stroke and cannot get out of the house at all. This will make all who knew Mrs. Marx feel very sorry. She has visited us several times at Quilt Club Corner meetings and was always so cheery and kept so busy sewing all of the time she was with us. I do hope that many of you will send words of cheer to her.

And while you are writing notes don't forget Mrs. Victoria Allor, 1089 Lakeview avenue, who has been a shut-in for so many years. Mrs. Allor has a birthday on May 24, which would be a good time to write to her.

Mrs. Constance K. Murphy and Mrs. Mae Lawson drove out to Goodrich and spent the day with Mrs. C. F. White and it was a glorious afternoon for all of them. Mrs. White showed them all of her quilts, and she has many beautiful ones. We hope that she puts all of them in the next show.

out when the sun shines on it look like a prism. Send for Leaflet No. ID-72 "Spring Visions." See directions under cut.

This pattern is for piecework and applique and so it should suit everybody. Some like to do one, some the other and many like to combine the two techniques. Here is their opportunity.

EVERY time the Quilt Club Corner meets there are more quilts being started using these new designs, some just needing the finish-
