

Makes Entire Quilt While Convalescing

By EDITH B. CRUMB

CONVALESCING from an operation for seven weeks didn't interfere with Mrs. Leah White's sewing. Just to show us how she put in her time Mrs. White, 1373 Dougall avenue, Windsor, brought to the Quilt Club Corner meeting yesterday a friendship quilt she made from start to finish.

The blocks are made up of prints and plain white material—the latter containing the names of her friends and their birthplaces. All of these friends reside in Windsor so it was a simple matter to get their autographs.

The blocks are set together with turkey red percale, which was also used for the back of the quilt. The quilting is done in white. Mrs. White was fortunate in having the assistance of the Scout Mothers of Troop No. 9 in doing this part of the quilt.

She says she received 85 cards and letters while she was ill and was very grateful for these cheery messages which did so much to make her happier during her recovery.

* * *
MR. MARGARET ZISLER, 4109 Burns avenue, who has not been to a Corner meeting for two years, surprised us yesterday by dropping in for the afternoon.

She is making a Postage Stamp quilt and hopes to have the top of this, as well as a couple of other quilts and a crocheted spread entered in the quilt show.

* * *
MR. JOANNA KONEMAN, 17200 Goulburn avenue, became a Quilt Club member yesterday and so did Mrs. F. E. Simmons, 2185 Garland avenue. Mrs. Simmons said she had read everything in the quilting department for years and decided that we must have a lot of fun and thought she ought to come down and join us.

We hope she enjoyed herself and will be here every Friday afternoon. We also hope that Mrs. Konemann will join us every week.

* * *
MR. RAY TAYLOR handed in the name of a friend for membership—Mrs. Eva Elkei, Box 193, Steger, Ill. She and Mrs. Taylor were friends long ago in Des Moines, Ia., and both are still interested in quilt-making. We are sorry Mrs. Elkei does not live near enough to be with us every Friday afternoon.

CORNERITES' BIRTHDAYS

March 7—Mrs. P. A. Hoover, Wakeman, O.; Mrs. Harry Hill, 13792 Ardmore avenue.

March 8—Miss Betty A. Ferguson, 8325 Bryden avenue.

March 9—Mrs. Marian Ridler, 7055 Senator avenue; Mrs. Anna Le Duc, 37 Pine street, River Rouge; Mrs. Anna Shmon, 71 Forest avenue, River Rouge.

March 10 Mrs. Sadie Ashley,

The Cooky Jar

Keeping the cooky jar full of surprises is a sure way to build a top flight reputation with the youngsters.

Send for THE COOKY BOOK—and have 101 good recipes to try.

This booklet is 5 cents if called for at The News, Majestic or General Motors Building, 10 cents by mail.

5208 Lincoln avenue; Miss Thelma Garvey, 7727 Phelps avenue; Ruth Mary Inch, 3761 Walnut street, Route 1, Rochester; Mrs. Della Hunter, 4454 16th street, Detroit.

March 11—Mrs. Margaret Sherk, 16147 Freeland avenue; Mrs. C. Frost, Mt. Morris, Mich.; Mrs. Elizabeth McGrath, Hotel Detroit.

March 12—Mrs. Frank Andres, 5115 Seyburn avenue; Mrs. W. R. Boland, 320 Belmont avenue; Mrs. Gertrude Jones, 17140 Oakfield avenue.

March 13—Miss Ruth Klein, 5326 Bewick avenue; Mrs. R. Nofz, 12353 Wisconsin avenue; Eva Mae Axford, 429 Walnut Blvd., Rochester.

Autographed Blocks

MRS. LEAH WHITE, 1373 Dougall avenue, Windsor, Ontario, made this friendship quilt during a seven weeks' convalescence and brought it to the Quilt Club meeting yesterday. It is of printed material and white squares put together with turkey red percale. Her friends have autographed the white blocks.