

Women Stitch Army Insignia

FROM PALMOUTH, Mass., comes an interesting story of the enthusiasm of women in meeting a war emergency. They held one of the largest sewing bees recorded, putting brand new insignia on many thousands of Army garments.

Women's clubs, high school girls and Army women, including two generals' wives, participated, under the direction of Mrs. Jane Hope Whitney. They went to their rendezvous in Army jeeps, trucks and weapon carriers. Here, six miles in the woods at an Army camp, they sewed on the new insignia of the Engineers Amphibian Command.

Every soldier had five garments — heavy topcoat, blouse, field jacket and two shirts. Chevron, braid on hats and officers' bars for shoulders were also sewn on, as the women gayly tackled the great piles of clothes heaped on the tables. They finished in two days.

Silk Hose at the Front

ON THE FIRING LINE it's the gunpowder bag made of silk that sets off the explosion in the big gun. Nylon is needed for other war purposes. Women should take all their unwearable silk or nylon, or part silk or nylon, hose to the nearest retail store which sells hose. The merchant will ship them to the Government in 100-pound lots.

It's Patriotic to Shop Early

SHOP EARLY in the month. Shop early in the day are the two slogans for the patriotic shopper to remember.

With a shortage of workers to sell, wrap, and deliver the things you buy, the only way for shopper and merchant to carry the holiday load is to spread it out.

EARLY IN THE DAY for the housewife, leaves time at noon hour and late afternoon for the business people to have a chance to shop.

EARLY IN THE MONTH means that the whole system won't break down under a peak load which taxes today's war-time organization.

Home women are asked to shop between the hours of 9:45 and 11:30 a. m. and between 1:30 and 4 p. m.

Every one is asked to check off at least half his Christmas buying list during November.

The merchandise is here—Go and get it NOW.

Coverup

Rub the meat of the pecan nut into a bad scratch on highly polished furniture. Then rub with furniture polish. The scratch will hardly be seen.
