L. Hudson Flanning Center, or at the B. A. Chaplow Lumber Co., 8675 Seven Mile road east. large wall areas which make the arrangement of furniture groupings without having the room cluttered.

A large area at the end of the 16 ft. long kitchen has been planned for dining furniture and there may be a drop-leaf table living room to take care of a EARLIER PLANS placed at the rear end of the larger number of diners.

At the left of the kitchen is ARE AVAILABLE the laundry area with washer, dryer and a laundry tub.

HEATER AREA

Next to the bath and back of the kitchen is a small recessed area for the heating equipment, at The News office in the Majes-

A large closet is placed at the tic or General Motors buildings, dining end of the kitchen for at the J. L. Hudson Co. Home storage and, since there is no Planning Center, and the B. A. basement to provide storage, a Chaplow Lumber Co., 8675 Seven closet approximately 6 ft. square Mile road east. has been designed with an entrance from the rear of the house. This is for the purpose of taking care of summer furniture, garden equipment, etc.

Instead of conventional hinged doors closing off the kitchen closet and heater equipment recess there are folding doors of vertical flat basswood slats, each less than an inch wide. The slats are woven together with extrastrong seine twine to form a wood fabric with an interesting texture that harmonizes with the general scheme.

SIDING AND SHINGLES

The exterior of this house is of wood siding and brick for the front and gables, double-course wood shingles, sides and rear and asphalt shingles for the roof.

If you wish to purchase the plans for this house please use the coupon for that purpose. The price is $6.50 for one set or $18

FLOOR PLAN OF 55-7-The compact arrangement of this house makes it possible to have a living room over 21 ft. in length, three bedrooms and a generous amount of closet space.
