

She is Making Heirlooms

Inset shows Mrs. Wasilewski, who has just finished this crocheted spread. Just to make it a little different and more attractive, she designed this special fringed edge.

It's First of Three Spreads for Gifts to Her Daughters

By EDITH B. CRUMB

WHEN Virginia, Rita and DeLores, aged 14, 11 and 6 years, respectively, daughters of Mrs. Josephine Wasilewski, 14413 Park Grove avenue, Detroit, are grown up and have homes of their own, they will each have a very precious possession. Their mother is seeing to that.

She has spent four months making the quilt as shown in the illustration for Virginia. And when I tell you that Mrs. Wasilewski is occupied in a store and does most of her own housework you will marvel at her ability to make this in four months' time.

EACH of the three spreads will have its individual design and the girls may even select the colors they wish. This one of Virginia's is creamy yellow and it required 84 balls of cotton to complete it. Mrs. Wasilewski plans on using a pink and visiting of buildings, etc., than eating of lunch. I marvel at Mrs. Reuter's patience.

I know what a job I had to embroider the characteristics under the little covers of my Horoscope quilt. Here's hoping that Mrs. Reuter has many a grand dinner on her lovely cloth. Success to all quilters, new and old, and continued success to our fast growing Corner.

MRS. ELLEN LEONARD
5854 Hamilton Ave., Detroit, Mich.

Well, Ellen Leonard, you certainly have a large contract ahead of you if you intend to make airplane quilts for all of those boys and keep their clothes mended, too. It was so nice of you to take time off from your many duties and drop us that long, interesting letter. It will be a long time before Frederick can pick out the colors for his quilt but as long as they are very bright he will be satisfied, I am sure.

Is Making Bird Quilt

DEAR MISS CRUMB: Today I received a card from Mrs. Chilton and last week I heard from some Quilt Club Corner members. I have been drawing pictures of birds ever since last fall and now that I have the picture of Mrs. Chilton's bird quilt I will start making it. Two quilt-makers sent me the picture and as soon as I finish my quilt I will return them with a thousand thanks.

I just finished making a Vase quilt. I put zinnias, daisies and morning glories in the vase and it is very pretty. The border is also beautiful with different kinds of flowers.

I am sending in a coupon with my name and new address and want to become a member. I saw Mrs. Finche's letter in tonight's paper and will write to her friends when I get settled in my other home. I am acquainted with Mrs. Finche. She is one of those good, true, dependable friends.

MRS. MARIE RANSOM
2951 Montclair ave.

I can see that for she is working so hard to have letters sent to her friends in Montana and I do hope that they receive lots of letters and cards. It would make me as happy as it does Mrs. Finche to know that something was being done toward making life happier for these shut-in friends of hers.

You were fortunate to receive the pictures of the bird quilt. It was in the paper such a long time ago that I was not sure anyone would have one left for you. So many of the quilt-makers keep scrap books and after a picture is pasted in, it's there for keeps.

I am happy to know that you heard from Mrs. Chilton for now I know that she keeps in touch with us even though we do not hear from her. The last we heard she was planning a trip to California, and that was before the quilt show in October.

sateen spread beneath this one. This spread is long enough to allow it to be drawn up over the pillows.

The design of this spread is a six-pointed star in popcorn stitch and Mrs. Wasilewski has made scarfs for the chest and table. These are, however, without the popcorn stitch so as to make them more practical as a flat surface on which to place lamps and other accessories.

NOW her other two daughters are anxious for her to start their spreads, but she intends to wait a little while before doing this for after working so steadily on one pattern she feels that she should have a little rest.

But we know that once she gets started it won't take her long to finish the other two, especially if Rita and DeLores encourage her to work steadily on them.

Boys Select Colors

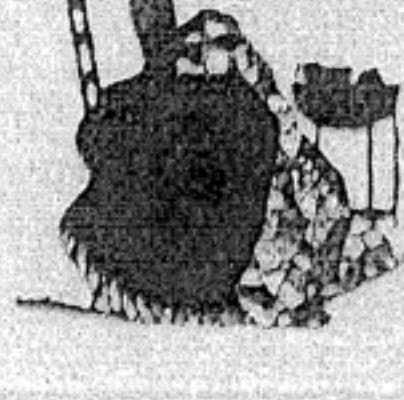

DEAR MISS CRUMB: Yes, it has been a long time since I knocked at the Corner. This is one time I must lay my usual penny postal card to one side as I have another one to enclose to you. This baby is the fourth boy.

Now I plan to get patterns for boys' quilts and think I will use airplane quilts as the boys are all air minded as most boys are today. I will let them pick out their colors and think it will be fun for them, but just what the color schemes will be remains to be seen. When I get tired of mending socks or patching pants, I pick up a block or two.

I surely would enjoy lunch on Mrs. Reuter's lovely crocheted cloth with the pattern of the Century of Progress on it, but I am afraid that there would be more sailing, flying
