

Everybody Is Happy at First Sewing Circle

Quilters Turn Goodfellows and Needles Click Merrily

By EDITH B. CRUMB

THAT big sewing circle that was scheduled for yesterday afternoon had such a large attendance that it turned into two great big sewing circles, and everyone seemed to be happy.

Knitting, crocheting, quilt-patch swapping, chatting and some tating were done during the afternoon.

lem of getting knitters and yarn together.

Yesterday afternoon five knitters gave me their names so that I could get in touch with them if I had wool donated. Soon enough change was put in a bowl to buy the yarn for two sweaters. Now if anyone else cares to donate enough yarn for a sweater—(they

Next week there will probably be more knitters for that Detroit News Goodfellows' sweater contest is certainly bringing out the knitting needles.

There are many knitters who would like to make sweaters if they had the yarn, whereas there are others who would like to donate the yarn if someone else would do the knitting; so now we have the probcost from $1 up) please call or write to Edith B. Crumb, care The Detroit News, Randolph 2000, Line 367.

This sewing circle (which filled two big rooms) is to be a regular affair every Friday afternoon from 1 to 4 o'clock.

Even if you can't stay all of the afternoon, drop in and have a little chat, anyway. We thought you would like the early hour, rather
