Things Seen and Heard at The News' Quilt Show

By EDITH B. CRUMB.

MANY interesting things were seen and heard at the quilt show, and here are a few items:

"Is there a sailor here who can take care of my baby while I look at the quilts?" (The answer to that was—not a sailor in sight for a long time.)

"I can't find my quilt. O-o-o-o-h, there it is. And it has a green ribbon on it. Well, what do you know about that?"

"How can any one take such little bits of stitches?"

"While I am here at the Quilt Show, my husband is going to two to become interested in the Quilt Club Corner and she said that when the Tigers played one of the World Series games in Chicago someone dropped a Detroit News and when she picked it up it was opened at the Quilt Club Corner page and she immediately wrote to us and sent us several quilts for the exhibit. Of course, I did not expect that she would attend, but about 6 o'clock Saturday evening she arrived and said that she came over on the bus and intended to stay until the 5 o'clock bus left on Sunday afternoon. She brought a big supply of patches to exchange and I hope that she had a fine time.

SKETCHED LAZY DAISY

At one time all but one of the tables in the Quilt Club Corner were occupied by quilt-makers exchanging patches and all alone at the remaining table was one little boy, and what do you suppose he was doing? Trying to copy Lazy Daisy's picture.

Lazy Daisy has become very popular and has many new friends.

Consider Age of Child When Planning Party

CHILDREN love parties but often mothers don't know just what to plan when they are very little—the pre-school age. Mrs. H. S. Mallory, child psychologist for The Detroit News, gives some very helpful ideas in her leaflet, "Psychology of the Party of the Pre-School Child."

It's important to know how many to ask, what to do and what to serve and what favors to have. All of these things are on the leaflet and the catalog number is CT-3.

TO OBTAIN this leaflet send your request with catalog number CT-3, and 5 cents postage to The Detroit News Public Service Bureau—and it, with any four others you select, will be mailed to you unfolded to fit the new holders. Or call in person at The Detroit News Public Service Bureau in the main building of The News at Second and Lafayette boulevards, or at the branch office in the Majestic or General Motors Buildings.

Watch for her every day in the paper. She will be very busy and interested in everything. She has received many letters and is looking forward to many more.

The Quilt Club Corner editor is also looking forward to more letters, to be read over the radio next Monday, Oct. 28; so in order to have your letter or card here in time, please send it so that it will arrive not later than Friday morning, Oct. 25. Will you do that? Thank you!

'Lazy' Takes Time to Recuperate

A Good Snooze Will Put L. D. Right on Her Feet Again

YESTERDAY morning the Quilt Club Corner editor took a good supply of note paper, some nice sharp pencils and knocked at the Sew-and-Sew front door, standing a long time on the Welcome mat before the door was opened. It was opened by Mrs. Sew-and-Sew on editor came for the purpose of writing Lazy Daisy's impression of the Quilt Show she ushered the Q. C. C. editor into the living room where she thought she would sit and chat with Lazy Daisy.

But not a chance for L. D. simply could not be aroused! She had reached home about 10:30 Sunday night (being the last one out of the Armory and on arriving collapsed on the sofa, hat, gloves, shoes and all of her clothes and since then there hasn't been a word out of her—just a snore or two and some mumblings that sounded like "quilts, Double Irish Chain, popcorn, ginger ale, sailors and calico patches."

So we will just let Lazy Daisy have her sleep out and when she awakes and is rested again we will see what she has to say for herself. She must have had a good time, though—don't you think so?

Double Irish Chain Quilt Takes Honors in Show

THIS lovely old design took first place in the annual quilt show sponsored by The Detroit News last week. It's a pattern that has been used for years, but its popularity seems to increase rather than decrease. You will enjoy making it as much as you will the result.

The catalog number of the leaflet is ID 30.

TO OBTAIN the Double Irish Chain Quilt leaflet send your address and five cents postage—making sure to inclose the catalog number ID 30—to The Detroit News Public Service Bureau and it, with four other leaflets you select, will be mailed to you. Or call in person at The Detroit News Public Service Bureau at the main office of The News or at the branch offices in Majestic and General Motors Buildings.

Ladies of Charity

A card party to raise funds for St. Vincent's Orphanage will be given Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Detroit Turnverein, by the Ladies of Charity of the orphanage. A floor show and dancing will be given in connection with the affair.

Monarch Is Dead

BRANDON, Man., Oct. 22.—(U.P.)—The "king" of Canada's horses is dead. Injured in a cyclone which swept the Brandon district recently, Monarch, Canada's outstanding Percheron stallion, which held more than 40 grand championships, succumbed despite the most expert treatment.

movies every day. He is never able to get me to go with him and now he is having a grand time.

"My husband wouldn't tell me what he is going to do while I am at the Quilt Show."

HUSBANDS ENJOYED SHOW

"My husband came with me and is enjoying himself. What a time I had getting him started and now I have been ready to go home for half an hour and he is still looking at quilts. Says some of them are just like his grandmother had down on the farm when he was a little boy."

"Oh, I would rather have a patch with a green background. Will you exchange that one for this with the red?"

"Now I have enough patches so that every block in my quilt will have a different scheme."

I asked Mrs. S. Gasperick, who came over from Chicago just for the Quilt Show, how she happened
