Proceeds Are Used for Many Charities

By EDITH B. CRUMB

YOU WOULD be surprised to know how easily women learn to quilt. A group of women who belonged to the Goodale School Mothers' Club were anxious to do something to earn money for charity work, so someone suggested that they make a quilt.

This looked like a difficult task because none of them had ever done any quilting. But just to show what can be done by perseverance and guidance, the quilt in the picture was made by this group.

It is made from the Single Irish Chain design in red and white print, with plain white material. To make this there are nine patches of one-and one-half inch patches. These were made into large nine-patch blocks which are nine inches square and then arranged diagonally with plain nine-inch blocks.

Each of the small blocks is quilted around the inside, this also being the size of the quilting on the plain white three-inch squares so that they appear to be made of nine plain white patches. The large blocks have a feathered circle quilted in them. The border is of three-inch bands of the red and white print and plain white material with the print being used for the binding.

THERE are 69 members in the club and 15 of these are in the quilting group. Besides the 12 which came down to have their pictures taken with the quilt there are Mrs. Jennie Gilson, Mrs. Ruth Palmer and Mrs. Geo. Grimm who are hard working quilters and did a great deal to make this quilt beautiful.

The Goodale School Mother's Club was organized three years ago and there is a meeting of the entire group once a month; but the quilters meet every week in a home of one of the members. The session begins at 10 in the morning, a potluck lunch breaks up the day and they stay late in the worked into beautiful blocks. Mrs. Gabrielle Baecheront spent most of yesterday afternoon cutting small green leaves for her Laurel Wreath quilt which she is making.

May Mancuse has strayed from quilt-making, but in-as-much as she is finishing the sweater which I started for the British War Relief she is forgiven. She is working very hard at it and before long she will have it completed.

Decorator's Scrapbook

Every woman gets into the fascinating field of interior decorating sooner or later. And the minute she does she wants to know all about the terms and periods and styles of furniture.

Starting Tuesday a DECORATOR'S DICTIONARY giving simple, concise definitions for words used commonly in interior decoration will appear on the women's pages of The Detroit News.

Save the daily installments and make a scrapbook to have your own dictionary in convenient form.

afternoon. The quilting was done at the home of Mrs. Jewell who is the home-craft chairman. Mrs. Parssinen is the membership chairman and Mrs. Grenat is the publicity chairman.

Mrs. Mierau has been a member of the Detroit News quilt club for many years and yesterday she brought Mrs. Zettner who also joined and hopes to come every Friday. We would be happy if the 15 quilters would join and be with us every week.

TO EARN money for the quilt materials, these women have a bazaar and the quilt is more than paid for when it is raffled, the proceeds being used to send children to camp for holiday baskets and any emergency that might arise in the neighborhood.

Now that this quilt is finished, these women are anxious to start another one. They plan to piece quilts or quilt them and they have their first order—a Double Wedding quilt of Mrs. Harrison's, which she has just finished and has ready for the frames.

Quilt-making is gaining steadily in popularity and every Friday we see many pretty designs being
