

BEAUTY IN THE HOME

By EDITH B. CRUMB.

THAT living room which is truly homelike contains not only the necessary pieces of furniture, but such accessories as give a suggestion of the characteristics of the people living in the house.

A study of the accompanying illustration from The Good Furniture Magazine would lead one to believe that a lover of books and writing might live there—and one whose aim is to have a sunny, cheerful room.

Light has been the first consideration in planning this room. The woodwork and walls are both finished alike in a deep shade of ivory, for this background always furnishes an excellent lighting effect and the floors are of hardwood with a medium brown finish.

Very sheer voile in a light ecru shade has been used for the glass curtains, as this does not interfere with the sun light, and the over-draperies are of plain blue green chintz with a semi-glazed surface. These have been lined with ecru sateen, made long enough to reach to the floor, trimmed with a narrow frill of the chintz and put up with an interesting valance. For part of the walls a cream shade and the woodwork, cupboards and ice box a pale green.

Please advise what color linoleum.

NEW SILHOUETTE FOR FRAMING

JUST in time for you to use for a Christmas present! A brand new silhouette—and such a fascinating one, too—of a very prim little lady sewing very industriously on a patchwork quilt.

Every detail of quaintness has been carried out, even the ladder-back chair on which she is sitting lending an effect of an old-time picture.

If you would like to have the silhouette of this dear little lady with the tiny cork-screw curls and high comb, it is yours for the asking.

Inasmuch as it should not be folded, you will have best results with framing if you send an envelope measuring about five by seven inches. Two cents postage will be sufficient.

Those of you who have the other silhouettes which this department has distributed will, no doubt, be looking forward to this lovely new one; and others who have had none of them, should start their collection with this.

To receive the leaflet, just send your request for it to the Beauty in the Home Department, The Detroit News, inclosing with it a big self-addressed, stamped envelope.

this two rods have been used, with a heading of chintz beyond each rod. This valance which may be made for any informal room and is especially attractive of taffeta for bedrooms or dressing rooms.

The floor covering is of small sized Oriental rugs, and the covering for the chair is of yellow ground flowered chintz, piped with blue green.
