Volume 15 of the Research Papers of the American Quilt Study Group

Edited by Virginia Gunn

Authors and Editor

Anne Copeland is an AQS certified quilt appraiser as well as a lecturer and author. She is particularly interested in twentieth-century kit quilts. Her articles have appeared in American Quilter and Quilter's Newsletter.

Beverly Dunivent is a quiltmaker, teacher, lecturer, and writer with particular interest in 1930s quilts, scrap quilts, and quilt reproductions. Her articles have appeared in Lady's Circle Patchwork Quilts, Traditional Quiltworks, and Quilting Today. She is an AQS certified quilt appraiser.

Sunny Falling-rain is a quiltmaker and designer. She holds a B.A. in English from the University of California at Davis and is currently serving as Head of Interlibrary Loan at the UC-Davis Carlson Health Sciences Library. She has a decade of experience as a public school teacher.

Jennifer F. Goldsborough, as chief curator at the Maryland Historical Society in Baltimore, directed the research leading to the major two-part exhibition Lavish Legacies: Baltimore Album Quilts 1845-1855, held from March to November 1994. She is co-author, with Philippa Glanville, of Women Silversmiths 1685-1845: Works from the Collection of The National Museum of Women in the Arts published by Thames and Hudson.

Virginia Gunn is a professor and the director of graduate studies in the School of Home Economics and Family Ecology at the University of Akron in Ohio. She has a Ph.D. in history and teaches in the division of clothing, textiles, and interiors. She served on the AQSG board of directors from 1985 to 1994.

Fawn Valentine is a member of the West Virginia Heritage Quilt Search. She designed its documentation form, directed the oral history project, and is a member of the publications and archives committee. Fawn has a master's degree in liberal studies. She serves on the Board of Trustees for Cabin Creek Quilts Co-operative and works in the building trades as a partner in Glass-Valentine Renovations.

Merikay Waldvogel is a full-time researcher, writer, and exhibit curator. She has a M.A. degree in linguistics from the University of Michigan. She co-directed the Tennessee state quilt project. She is the author of Soft Covers for Hard Times: Quiltmaking and the Great Depression; co-author, with Bets Ramsey, of The Quilts of Tennessee: Images of Domestic Life Prior to 1930; and co-author, with Barbara Brackman, of Patchwork Souvenirs of the 1933 World's Fair, as well as author of numerous articles. She has served on the AQSG board since 1989.

Kathleen Curtis Wilson was curator of textiles at the Historic Crab Orchard Museum, Tazewell, Virginia before becoming the 1994 scholar-in-residence at the Virginia Center for the Humanities and Public Policy in Charlottesville. She studied handweaving at The Cranbrook Schools in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan and spent a decade running the Old Abingdon Weaver, Inc. textile mill where she produced textiles with antique looms and equipment. She lectures, writes, and curates textile exhibits.

The American Quilt Study Group is a nonprofit organization devoted to uncovering and disseminating the history of quilt-making as a significant part of American art and culture. AQSG encourages and supports research on quilts, quilting, quilt-makers, and the textiles and materials of quilts. Membership and participation are open to all interested persons. For further information, contact the American Quilt Study Group, www.americanquiltstudygroup.org
